Please consider using the message below to promote your presence at SpaceCom to your customers in the industry.

Dear (INSERT CUSTOMER NAME),

We are excited to announce that we will be exhibiting at SpaceCom 2018 taking place in Houston this November 27-28. From the conference program to the exhibition, SpaceCom 2018 will continue to be a critical event for the commercial space industry.

SpaceCom 2018 is the only civilian event where NASA, aerospace, and commercial industries come together. For two days, professionals from aerospace and commercial sectors convene to gain insights during forward-looking conference sessions, see cutting-edge technology in an interactive exhibit hall, participate in NASA presentations and an Entrepreneur Summit that promises to transform markets. Attracting 2,500 professionals from all over the world, the event will investigate ways to create and capitalize on new business opportunities as well as celebrate how far we've come.

SpaceCom also features a keynote presentation from James Bridenstine, the NASA Administrator, an Entrepreneurs' Pavilion, a Geospatial Information Systems (GIS) Pavilion, and two co-located Smart Conference workshops.

Visit (INSERT COMPANY NAME) at booth (INSERT BOOTH NUMBER) his November 27-28, 2018 in Houston for an experience unlike any other. Register now before September 21st to save up to $200 on full conference registration!

I hope to see you there!

Yours Sincerely,

Official SpaceCom Blog Posts

If you have a topic you would like to write about relating to your work and its relevance to SpaceCom, be sure to utilize the SpaceCom blog to promote your company to attendees! Also, don't forget to include a "Register now" call to action.

All content for the blog must...

Be Relevant:

The subject of the post may vary as long as it relates to how space innovations are enabling new commercial opportunities. Each post must include at least a one sentence tie in.

Keep Target Audience in Mind:

Be mindful that the target audiences for the SpaceCom blog are registered and prospective attendees and exhibitors. Please frame the content accordingly.

Include an Image:

Be sure to include a high resolution 1920x1080 image to complement your post's content.

Keep Content Concise:

Make sure your post's content is both informative and to the point. Be sure to segment your major points into short and easily digestible paragraphs.

Include SpaceCom CTA:

At the end of the post be sure to include a call to action for SpaceCom registration. "Learn more about (INSERT topic matter) at SpaceCom 2018 – register now to join us in Houston this November 27-18."

Be Submitted for Approval:

Each post for the blog must be submitted to the SpaceCom site admin for approval before it can be posted. Posts may be subject to minor edits. Please email your blog submission, organization name, and relevant contact information to tjarocho@ntpevent.com.

Podcast Promotion

Do you have a personal podcast or one you will be featured on before December 5th? If so be sure to promote your presence at SpaceCom and encourage listeners to attend. Below is a sample script you can use.

“We’d like to announce that we’re going to be an exhibitor at SpaceCom this November 27-28 in Houston. SpaceCom is the only civilian event where NASA, Aerospace, and commercial industries come together to gain insights during forward-looking conference sessions, see cutting-edge technology in an interactive exhibit hall, participate in NASA presentations and an Entrepreneur Summit that promises to transform markets.

I’m sure the event will exceed your expectations and give you something to talk about for years to come. Register at spacecomexpo.com before September 21st to save up to $200 on full conference registration and join us for an experience unlike any other.”

Video Promotion

You can also create a short and engaging video to promote your presence at SpaceCom and post it on social media. Below is a sample script you can use.
